

Canon Inc.

From Wikipedia, the free encyclopedia

Canon Inc. (キヤノン株式会社 Kyanon Kabushiki-gaisha) is a Japanese multinational corporation specialized in the manufacture of imaging and optical products, including cameras, camcorders, photocopiers, steppers, computer printers and medical equipment. Its headquarters are located in Ōta, Tokyo, Japan.^[3]

Canon has a primary listing on the Tokyo Stock Exchange and is a constituent of the TOPIX index. It has a secondary listing on the New York Stock Exchange. At the beginning of 2015, Canon was the tenth largest public company in Japan when measured by market capitalization.^[4]

Contents

- 1 Name
- 2 History
 - 2.1 1937 to 1970
 - 2.2 1970 to 2009
 - 2.3 2010 to present
- 3 Products
 - 3.1 Digital cameras
 - 3.2 Digital copiers
 - 3.3 Printers
 - 3.4 Flash units
 - 3.5 Scanners
 - 3.6 Computers
 - 3.7 Camcorders
- 4 Operations
- 5 Environmental record
- 6 Charitable activities
- 7 Sponsorships
- 8 See also
- 9 Notes
- 10 References
- 11 External links

Canon Inc.

Native name	キヤノン株式会社
Type	Public (K.K.)
Traded as	TYO: 7751 (http://quote.tse.or.jp/tse_n/quote.cgi?F=listing%2FEDetail1&MKTN=T&QCODE=7751) NYSE: CAJ (https://www.nyse.com/quote/XNYS:CAJ)
Industry	Electronics
Founded	Tokyo, Japan (10 August 1937) as Seikikōgaku kenkyūsho (jap. 精機光學研究所, Precision Optical Industry Co. Ltd.)
Founder	Takeshi Mitarai, Goro Yoshida, Saburo Uchida and Takeo Maeda, Reasey, Rithy
Headquarters	Ōta, Tokyo, Japan
Area served	Worldwide
Key people	Fujio Mitarai (Chairman & CEO)
Products	SLR cameras, still cameras, photocopiers, digital cameras, camcorders, printers, scanners, lenses, LCDs, ophthalmic instruments, magnetic heads, micro motors
Revenue	¥3.557 trillion (2011) ^[1]
Operating income	¥378.071 billion (2011) ^[1]
Profit	¥248.630 billion (2011) ^[1]
Total assets	¥3.930 trillion (2011) ^[1]
Total equity	¥2.551 trillion (2011) ^[1]
Number of employees	198,307 (2011) ^[2]
Divisions	Office Business Unit, Consumer Business Unit, Industry and Others Business Unit
Subsidiaries	Océ
Website	www.canon.com (http://www.canon.com)